Expansion of production facilities in autumn 2013

Strub + Co. AG is expanding its production facilities and will double the storage tanks capacities. The project begins this autumn and last for two years. STRUB will be able to optimize existing production processes as well as satisfy the increasing demand of products locally and internationally.

The project already started in 2008. Five years and many discussion rounds later the project can now start this autumn. After the expansion of production facilities in 1986 and 1994, STRUB expands for the third time in Reiden (Switzerland).
