Strub expands in the east and opens a subsidiary in St.Petersburg/Russia

In August 2013 Strub + Co. AG has decided, together with two Russian Partners, to open a subsidiary in St. Petersburg, Russia. The goal is to better penetrate the East European Market. Strub sees the Russian Market as huge potential for custom made lubricants and technical cleaners. Already four years ago, Strub did his first steps in Russia and could expand the market presence.

The Family Strub is pleased to announce this step. Clear focus is to expand the distribution network, the client base as well as the brand publicity. Director of the newly founded company, Strub SPb LLC, will be Alexander Kondratyev which is working since years together with Strub.
